

I would like to issue my complaint regarding the FCC's recently announced plans to revoke internet neutrality. I live in a fairly rural area, and I think it's unfair for internet customers to be discriminated against simply for where they live. Also, I think information discrimination could easily create an environment in which the internet is no longer the free market of ideas we have today, which would make our nation intellectually poorer.